

Parcours de Master

« Stratégie internationale des acteurs locaux »

Clémence BARBIER

"No matter what people tell you, words and ideas can change the world" - Robin Williams

Profile

It was by studying a bachelor in economics and management coupled with an international course in Spanish that I got caught by the field of international cooperation. After my third year at Universidad Iberoamericana in Mexico City, I started the "International Strategy of Regional Stakeholders" Master Degree.

Experience

I worked on the implementation of a social project in Mexico City's suburb with the goal of supplying electricity to an isolated community. I also worked for a year in an insurance office.

Skills

Native French, Spanish C1, English B2, one-year experience in a company, teamwork, organized, dynamic, determined and flexible.

Career objectives

I want to associate my interest for the international area — particularly in Latin America countries, with my desire of making myself useful through working in urban or economic development projects, with special focus on environment preservation. In my opinion, the local actor is one of the protagonists best placed to coming up with solutions for this kind of issues.
